Political Campaign Stirs Members of Women's Clubs

Some of Them Are Running for Office—New York City Federation to Meet on Friday With Mrs. Axel O. Ihseng Chairman.

MEMBERS of many of the women's clubs will divide their time this week between the political campaign in which some of them are running for office and the fifty-sixth convention of the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs at the Hotel Astor on Friday. While the convention itself will be only a one-day event there will be much entertainment in connection with it, especially luncheons and dinners.

The morning session, which will be devoted entirely to business, will be called to order at 10 o'clock and the resolutions will be presented at 11:30. Mrs. Axel O. Ihseng will be the chairman. During the morning the annual pledge to the scholarship fund will be asked for by the chairman of that committee, Mrs. Howard Paschal.

The afternoon session will open at 2 o'clock, when the president will introduce the guests of honor, following which the committee on child welfare, industrial conditions and penology, with their respective chairmen, Mrs. Park Matthews, Miss Helen Varick Boswell and Mrs. John H. Grissell, will present well known speakers on these subjects. There also will be some music under the chairmanship of Miss M. Louise Mundell. All delegates and alternates who could not register last Friday must do so on Wednesday. An excellent programme has been arranged by the chairman, Mrs. Frances Abraham, and it will be in progress between the hours of 2:30 and the closing time, which is scheduled for 5 o'clock.

The State of New York Society of the United States Daughters of 1812 announces the eighteenth season of the series of talks by Janet Richards of Washington, D. C., the subjects to be the public questions—political, international, legislative and economic. Commencing November 4 the talks will continue bi-monthly to April 7 inclusive, all to be given at the Waldorf-Astoria. The chairman of arrangements is Mrs. William Gerry Slade, from whom tickets may be obtained. Patronesses include Mrs. Finley C. Shepard, Mrs. Mary Van Buren Vanderpool, Mrs. George McCall, Mrs. Seth Low, Mrs. William Lindsay and Mrs. Henry Bramble Wilson. Miss Richards is now on her return trip from Washington, where she spent the summer gathering interesting data.

The American Criterion Society, Mrs. Lillian L. Hill presiding, held the first of its three business meetings of the year at the Hotel Commodore on Friday afternoon. Plans for the regular monthly luncheons, which take place on the first Friday of every month from November to May, were discussed. The dinners and dances as usual are to be held on the third Friday evenings of the winter and early spring months. Because of the increased membership of the society the annual banquet hall at the Commodore has been outgrown and all the events this season will take place in the ballroom of that hotel. The first luncheon will be held on Friday, November 4.

Mr. John H. Judge, chairman of the advisory board of the Little Theatre, held a luncheon to be given by the board's chairman and their committees at the Hotel McAlpin on Monday, November 15. The luncheon will take place on the usual reception given each year by the bazaar workers at Happy Day House. A musical programme will be presented by Miss Ruby Reed and Mr. Judge, who has been the legal adviser and good friend of all the needy children in the association for the last twenty years, will give a short talk on the work done for the little mothers of the tenements.

A meeting of chairmen was held last Thursday at Happy Day House and plans made for the coming Bazaar of Nations, which will be held on Friday, December 3, at the Waldorf-Astoria. Tickets for the bazaar luncheon may be obtained from Mrs. Clarence Burns, president, or Mrs. Matthew L. Carr, hostess, at 235 Second avenue.

Mrs. Noble McConnell will give a luncheon and card party to-morrow at the Hotel Astor for Mrs. Augustus Valois Wendel, one of the governors of the New York Mozart Society, of which Mrs. McConnell is president.

The guests will include Mrs. Bonaparte Adriance, H. H. Baker, Edward L. Edwards, Alfred Crew, Arthur Crow, Frank G. Cochran, George Kavanagh, Richard Denby, Raymond Doherty, Samuel G. Estabrook, Lionel Padin, William Glasston, William Maynard Haradon, Sidney Raymond Kent, Edward Kirk Mesick, George Macy, Owen J. McWilliams, Edward Romaine, Edward Schuchman, Charles Simon, Herbert Scott, W. E. Smith, Frank Warren, William H. Barkhorn, Walter Newton, Agnes D. Denner, Thomas Cusick, Francis A. Lester, Robert P. Dennis, Cardwell, Walter Bamford, L. B. Alderman, Michael Bauer, Charles F. Simons, and Miss Mary Jacobus.

Mrs. McWilliams, one of the governors of the Mozart Society, will give a luncheon on Thursday for Mrs. McConnell. It will be followed by a matinee, the guests being taken to see "The Return of Peter Grimm." Invitations are confined to members of the board.

A soiree dante will be given for members of the Verdi Club on Wednesday evening by their president, Mrs. Florence Foster Jenkins, at the MacDowell Club, 108 West Fifty-fifth street. About one hundred new members have been admitted to the Verdi recently and an active winter is anticipated by the club. A tea for the reception committee, Miss Edna Moreland, chairman, was given on Thursday by Mrs. Max Hyman at her home in Forest Hills. Among those present were Mrs. Samuel Roser, Mrs. Clarence Lee Hilliard, Paul Kiel, Walter Arthur Scott, J. Jones Christie, Max Hyman, Henry Edwards, Ford Gaby, Frederick Montague Taylor, James Gracie, Charles Whitfield Homer, Oscar Gumminder, and Miss Estelle Christie.

The Marquette Club will present a discussion of the issues of the campaign at two non-partisan meetings which it has arranged to hold to-morrow evening, Monday and Tuesday, October 31, respectively. The first meeting is to take place in the ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria. Mayor Hyman is to be the guest of honor and deliver the principal address. Controller Craig, Murray Hulbert, Judge Alfred J. Talley and other candidates are to be present and will also expound the Democratic argument. Preceding the formal programme Clayton Hearnshaw will give a recital on the pipe organ of the Waldorf.

The second of the meetings is to be held at the Commodore on Monday evening, October 31, when Major Curran and the Republican coalition candidates are to be the club's guests of honor and will present the arguments of the coalition campaign.

The Marquette Club is planning to attend the Notre Dame-Army football game at West Point on November 5, and has arranged for a special train to convey its members and guests to the reservation.

Drama Comedy, Edith Totten, president, held its first dance of the season on Friday at the Hotel Astor. The cabinet meeting, usually held the fourth Friday, will be eliminated next Friday so members can attend the New York City Federation held on that day.

The Friday Review, on November 4, the second of its series of "Dramatologies," with interpretative music by Carl Figue, will be given. Almee Abbot will speak on China and her journey there, Helen Varick Boswell will tell what she will do if elected Register and Mr. William Kearney, tenor, will sing.

On Saturday the Woman's Press Club will hold literature day at the Waldorf-Astoria. Mrs. Haryot Holt Day will preside. The programme will be presented by Miss Mary Sierst, the musical numbers will include soprano solo by Miss Lenore F. Reese and a piano solo by Miss Sarah Wolfson. John Farrar of The Bookman will talk on "Poets of Today." Dr. Blanche Colton Williams on "Current Tendencies in Short Story Fiction," Basanta Koomar Roy will tell of the "New Literature of India" and Dr. George J. Smith of the board of Education of the "Tendencies in Modern English." The "Literature of the Drama" will be discussed by Miss Ada Sterling. The guests of honor will be Miss Marian Storm, Mrs. Marguerite Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frothingham, Miss F. Soule Campbell, Mrs. Margaret Hoard and Miss Anna Hempstead Branch.

A Halloween dinner and dance will be given under the auspices of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce on the evening of October 29 at the Hotel Nassau. A large number of the winter residents of the resort interested in making Long Beach an all year colony will be present for the event. Among them are Mrs. Charles C. Clark, Charles L. Apfel, Paschal A. Carter, Albert B. Ramsay, Frank T. Coffey, Eugene K. Denton, C. E. Byrne, Everett Vanderpool, Mrs. George McCall, Cassius M. Coleman, Philip Segaller, Wilfred M. Thompson, Robert Froment, Oscar Hermann, Evelyn Lindsay, M. W. Deane, John J. Lawlor, Jr., and James M. Power.

Mr. John W. Willis P. Miner, president, will hold a meeting to-morrow afternoon at the Hotel Astor. The topic of the day will be "The Literary Club Direct," being contributions by the members and edited by Mrs. George Warren Dunn.

The National Opera Club of America, Mrs. Katharine Evans von Klenner, founder and president, will have two important meetings of the season on the afternoon of the 10th and the evening of the 16th. At both these meetings Mrs. Havah Hubbard will give addresses with dramatic illustrations by Mr. Edgar Bowman. Dancing will follow the evening programme.

President and Mrs. Harding head the long list of patrons and patronesses among whom are numbered representatives of men and women of North, Central and South America, for the dances to be given during the season by the Rainbow Club of the Americas. The first dance will be on Friday evening, November 11, in the Colonial room of the Waldorf-Astoria. The other five will be on the second Friday of each month. Mrs. Lillian Miles Walbridge is president and founder of the club. The other officers are Col. Thomas A. H. Hay, Mrs. Maria A. de Galvan, Mrs. E. Agnes Gormley, Mrs. Clara Novello Daves, Dr. Marcel Gutierrez, Mrs. Samuel Marroli, Mr. Enrique Cennaro, Mrs. Ernestine G. de Bacardi, Mrs. Edwin O. Townes and Mrs. Mercedes de U. Taylor.
